Indiana Furniture Expands CET Designer Extension To Include Entire Portfolio.

JASPER, Ind., May 22, 2020 – Today Indiana Furniture announced its CET Designer Extension will now feature fourteen product lines encompassing casegoods, seating, and tables...and this is only the beginning! Their full product line will soon be available on the popular specification/visualization platform. These additions will provide specifiers with increased speed, accuracy, and visual tools when specifying the Indiana Furniture products.

The Indiana Furniture Extension now includes some of the company's most popular lines, including Canvas and Gesso desking systems, Clutch, Britta, Joy, Bailey, Gleem, Carreta and Isla seating, the Square One space division product, Jot and Topsy Turvy occasional tables, as well as the Aura conferencing and reception product lines. Over the next month they will continue to release weekly updates on the remainder of their products allowing their entire portfolio to be accessible on CET Designer by mid to late June 2020.

Developed by Configura and used by thousands of people globally, CET Designer helps manufacturers and dealers serve their mutual clients by providing a single software solution for space planning and ordering products. The highly visual software enables 2D and 3D design, photorealistic renderings, fly-thru videos, and virtual reality experiences, as well as instant pricing, part lists, and installation documents. It's a complete solution that quickly and accurately handles every step of the specification and ordering process.

"By offering our entire portfolio through this platform, we are striving to further simplify the process for everyone to specify and design with Indiana Furniture products," said Mike Blessinger, VP of Sales & Marketing at Indiana Furniture. "We're excited to be a part of a solution that empowers users and helps them increase productivity, reduce errors, and offer better graphics as they navigate through space planning, ordering, and ultimately delivering on several levels for the client."

The Indiana Furniture Extension, which will soon include all product models, is free to users of CET, and can be downloaded via Configura's Marketplace. To learn more about the CET Designer or Configura's Marketplace, please go to www.configura.com.
